Description

ModMyToys DreamFlex was developed for elite case modders and water coolers--the guys that know cutting edge blocks, radiators, and pumps are only as good as the tubing that connects them. Over a year of research and development went into DreamFlex tubing and the result is a tube with excellent bend radius, consistently vibrant color, excellent UV radiance, smooth inner bore that stays that way with first rate anti-microbial agents molded right into the tube-- not added after extrusion. The end result is a tube good enough to wear the ModMyToys name--except it doesn't because we hate printing on our tubing as much as you! We know the best advertisement we can have are our customers and their builds The ModMyToys DreamFlex is an unbeatable value for builders serious about how their systems look AND how they perform.
