Description

Modders had to wait a long time. But now they are available: The Alphacool GPX SLI Connector in Plexi edition. As with its predecessors are here also LED holes admitted to illuminate the SLI connector.

Installation is very simple using the included fittings. The special connections have on one side the ¼ "thread and on the other side just a straight piece of pipe which is simply plugged only into the SLI bridge (double O-ring). So the installation can also be done if the coolers are mounted.
