A new generation of fans joins the Alphacool range. The Susurro, Spanish for Whisper.

A fundamental review of known fan designs was used to manufacture the Susurro. The perfect harmony between the AlphaCool blue and deep blacks make a great impression. The transparent black fan is optimized to cause virtually no noise.

But don't be persuaded by looks alone. The Susurro has great performance. With 1700 U / min only 22.5 dBA with a flow rate of 164m<sup>3</sup> / h.

The Susurro is provided with a silicone frame stopping possibility of any vibration. Also the mounting system uses silicone pins as a second line of defence.

Internet Reviews	Review from ThermalBench "The fan itself is built well, and the rubber fan frame is a nice touch...good control, quiet at low speeds and good from an airflow/noise perspective at low-mid speeds also. The color scheme isn't outrageous by any means either, and while it fits the Alphacool black/blue color scheme very well it also works with most builds if you don't mind a touch of blue." Click to read more
