Short Description

The MMRS Radiator Mounting Kit allows you to mount your MMRS reservoir configuration to virtually any radiator. Because of the modular nature of our MMRS reservoirs, and the nearly endless number of custom configurations it is impossible to have one radiator mounting option that can cover every single possible configuration our customers can dream up—but this one comes pretty close.

Description

The MMRS Radiator Mounting Kit allows you to mount your MMRS reservoir configuration to virtually any radiator. Because of the modular nature of our MMRS reservoirs, and the nearly endless number of custom configurations it is impossible to have one radiator mounting option that can cover every single possible configuration our customers can dream up—but this one comes pretty close.

The brackets are heavy gauge 3mm thick steel and are powder coated matte black. The kit includes two “Y” shaped brackets, and two “T” shaped brackets. These can be used individually or in any combination and each features up to 36mm of adjustment travel.

Included spacers get the brackets up off of the radiator to allow for better airflow, and mounting screws come in three sizes (M4, M3.5, and 6-32) to fit almost any radiator on the market, and in two lengths—one for mounting directly to the radiator, and one for mounting thru your fans and into the radiator.

You can further adjust the reservoirs distance from your radiator with any of our standard mounts (available in 12mm, 25mm, and 50mm heights) which are sold separately.

Available for 120mm or 140mm radiators / fans.

Please Note:

Because of the modular nature of the MMRS system, the number of radiators on the market, and the endless ways radiators, reservoirs, and cases can be configured, it is up to you to figure out exactly how you want to use these mounts. There is no way we can cover every single possibility or guide you through all the options. This is a kit to give you options to figure out the best way to mount your MMRS
