$11.99

Product Images

Short Description

The Phanteks' Halos Digital RGB fan frames complements any premium system build with ambient illumination. Using high density LEDs (30 LED's) that are individually addressable, allows for more patterns and color modes with smooth transitions. Illuminate your performance fans with the Halos Digital fan frames and bring style to your system without compromising performance.

Description

The Phanteks' Halos Digital RGB fan frames complements any premium system build with ambient illumination. Using high density LEDs (30 LED's) that are individually addressable, allows for more patterns and color modes with smooth transitions. Illuminate your performance fans with the Halos Digital fan frames and bring style to your system without compromising performance.

Features

The Halos Digital RGB fan frame is developed to illuminate fan blades from different varieties of material/color with a bright ambient glow. This means even high per formance fans made from PBT material, like Phanteks' MP and SP fans, can now be illuminated in any color. With the Halos there's no more compromise on performance when RGB illuminated fans are desired.
