Short Description

Meshx FanGuard is perfect for a neutral mesh look. Also great for use behind design fan guards that has lots of space. Some design fan guards look great but do not provide "fan guard" function as their design leaves too much space - simply install the Meshx FanGuard just before the design.

Description

Cool mesh look.

Meshx FanGuard is perfect for a neutral mesh look. Also great for use behind design fan guards that has lots of space. Some design fan guards look great but do not provide "fan guard" function as their design leaves too much space - simply install the Meshx FanGuard just before the design. The Meshx FanGuard provides the function and does not intrude into the look / design of the the design fan guard.

Meshx brings to modding the all-time favorite meshed look. Seen those mesh bumper grills in the cool body kits of fast and furious street racers? Seen the Mac G5 or Lian Li's new casing styles? Make a full frontplate with it, or a small thin strip for highlighting. How about dressing up the radiator?

0.8mm thickness ensures that they remain strong, durable and do not break easily. Stainless steel is free from rust so they can be used with watercooling constructions too. Add a layer of color coat with for vibrant color quality finishing.

Available in MeshxPanel for free-form modding or as Meshx Fanguards.

Meshx is one of the many "mod supplies" products that AC Ryan introduces with the aim of making modding material more easily available. We hope to to be surprised by your creations.

AC Ryan says: "Mod supplies lets you mod the mod you want, the way you want it."
