Description

Noble breeze NB01, SilverStone's first notebook cooler product, is designed with stylish appearance constructed of perforated mesh and all aluminum body. It can be seen as a must-have product for notebook user. For SilverStone, innovation is more than feature improvements; it is about improving total user experience. Therefore, in order to reduce the wrist, neck, back and shoulder stress resulted from using the notebook, SilverStone NB01 is designed based on human factor engineering in order to provide a more comfortable user experience. The 12 degrees of tilt is designed for long-term use and gives NB01's 4-way intakes plenty of airflow to enable maximum cooling performance while keeping the noise to a minimum. Supported by three 92mm cooling fan with precision gaps between NB01, the notebook, and the mesh locations, the NB01 is the best choice for users requiring a valuable notebook cooler.
