Description

The Parvum Systems S2.0 is an evolution of the popular S1.0 with a host of new features and improvements over their first product range. Many of the features have been included as a result of feedback from the fast growing Parvum user base.

The Parvum Systems S2.0 Accessory range is designed to offer a customisable range of spare parts for the Parvum S2.0 range that allows new and existing users to update the look of their case easily and affordably.

By adding different colour panels to your Parvum Systems case you can change the appearance of your case easily and quickly by swapping out the stock parts for a unique colour.

Each high quality acrylic panel is cut, finished, and packed in the UK by Parvum Systems.

The Parvum Systems S2.0 Accent Kit allows you to totally transform the appearance of your system with these easy to install replacement panels.
