Short Description

Lamptron listens to the call of users worldwide begging to change that boring white or blue LCD readout used in many fan controllers of today. With the Lamptron design team working closely with suggestions by users like you, we perfected a fan controller that allows a person to change the readout color of not one or two but seven different colors! We also added a function which allows users to choose what they desire to be displayed for the bottom line readout in the LCD display with the choices of Celsius, Fahrenheit, or Voltages. Now with new and improved LCD!
