Short Description

Protium 3.0 uses a retention ring design instead of threaded caps.

Description

Protium 3.0 uses a retention ring design instead of threaded caps. This allows for 360-degree rotation of the reservoir caps, and it is far more durable than caps which thread onto the inside of the reservoir tube. The reservoir cap is built from CNC Machined Cast Acrylic. It is compatible with Protium 3.0 ARGB 150 D5 Reservoir Combos, Protium 3.0 Reservoir 200mm and backwards compatible with Protium 1.0 and 2.0. It has a recessed top to catch any fluid in the case of an overflow, and a mounting position for the SC ARGB Cover which is available separately. They come in Clear Acrylic or Black Acetal.

Note: Backwards compatible with Protium 1.0 and 2.0.

Features

Installation.

Attaches to the ends of the SC Protium 3.0 Reservoir Tube using the SC Protium 3.0 Reservoir Retention Ring. Compatible with Singularity Computers Products only.
