Description

This is a clear OEM window panel made of premium acrylic that is laser cut to perfectly fit the Lian Li PC-V1000 series cases. This panel requires you to use hand tools to remove the braces holding the stock acrylic panel. The window insert can have optional fan hole patterns drilled that will allow your better cooling of your V1000 case. Fan holes are most effective over the video card area but can aid in cooling over CPU and chipset areas where passive heatsinks installed. Panel available in clear or smoke colored acrylic.

Perfect for those that don't want to take the chance of ruining their acrylic or those that had a little moddin' mishap ;)
