Short Description

Blind Pop rivets are an excellent way to fasten when you cannot get to the back or "blind side" of the work piece. Our open end rivets work in countless applications. These are special and hard to find black pop rivets. We specifically choose this rivet and size to change out the panels in the classic Lian Li cases. Now you can take out the ugly silver rivets on that black case and change them to a matching black rivet! Or use for any case mod that requires attachment of various materials.
