Short Description

With the constant development of hardware getting better and better, the energy consumption of your computer rises because you want to get the full performance. Due to this the heat increases and so the requirements of your fan rise as well. To integrate several fans is not the right solution because your computer will get very, very noisy.

Description

With the constant development of hardware getting better and better, the energy consumption of your computer rises because you want to get the full performance. Due to this the heat increases and so the requirements of your fan rise as well. To integrate several fans is not the right solution because your computer will get very, very noisy. Bigger fans are the optimal solution for modern high-tech systems. The MegaFlow fan has a diameter of 200mm and so it has a displacement volume of 184 m³/h - twice the volume of 140mm fans.

High Cooling Performance with Low RPM and Extreme Silence The Cooler Master MegaFlow 200 R4-LUS-07AB-GP features a huge 200mm fan running at 700 RPM to deliver high air flow of 110 CFM and low to 19 dBA noise level for outstanding heat dissipation as well as quiet operation.

Compatibility and Application The Cooler Master MegaFlow 200 R4-LUS-07AB-GP is compatible with 230mm HAF mounts for easy upgrades. Recommended as a replacement or additional fan for HAF 932, HAF 922, COSMOS S, ATCS 840, CM Storm Sniper (Fan and LED will operate but full LED ON/OFF function will not be compatible when used on HAF 922 or CM Storm Sniper).
